Good afternoon NYC families,

Our team at Practice Makes Perfect has been working incredibly hard to create opportunities for low-income children and families this summer. Thanks to the generosity of The Schusterman Foundation and The Heckscher Foundation for Children, we secured funding to create 5,000 FREE spots for students in a virtual enrichment program that we will be operating.

The program is open to ALL NYC public school students grades 3-8 across the entire city and consists of 1.5 hours of live instruction with a Practice Makes Perfect Teaching Fellow and 1 hour of independent work 3x per week. We only received the good news and confirmation last week so we're working on spreading the word as quickly as possible.

Here's the link to the interest survey in English (<https://forms.gle/nmGxRanKCpuQaZDSA>) and in Spanish (<https://forms.gle/GUuL8Xb58dHSt7jq5>).

If you have children registered for any NYC public school, they are eligible to participate as well. To learn more about Practice Makes Perfect, visit www.practicemakesperfect.org

Best,
